

It was very hard for me to do get up this day. I was honestly sometimes without motivate but still continue to do the things. Sometimes I don't know what the reason I woke up in the morning. But we continue to wake up and live.

Last day I was watching "The Great Hack." Freak. The technological accomplishments of these times are really daunting. What should we do to protect our data? I thought I am so unimportant, they had nothing to get from me. The majority also wondered. Honestly, they'll get a lot.

I know how bake now. Before, I wasn't really obsessed with cooking because I was trying to clean. Who could be with those who say they love to cook, the same who loves to clean up? But because it's hard to buy a cake now, I just studied to do myself.

I have also been exercising every day. In the past, just two or three times a week. At one time, it didn't really. But because movement makes a happy turn, I try to make yourself exercise. As a result, I think I am healthy strong.

A day ago, my father asked me to go to a building. I don't know where the building is so I went to the map on the internet. I found that it was easy to go. I rode the bus and walked more than a kilometer to reach building. Even though it was a little raining, it was fine.

Last night, we were "drinking " on Skype some of my friends. We had planned this long time and while we were talking and laughing, I really didn't know the time. We talked beyond three hours. I didn't remember how much the walls were in this apartment. I did not knew that my roommate I had in the house was awakened.

When I can go again, I would like to come to Japan and Germany. In March, I was supposed to go to Japan and Germany only but was not able to proceed because of the Corona virus. I have a number of plans not to go on but it's okay. What is more important is that we are safe.

I would want to go swimming again. My best exercise was Swimming. I really enjoy when I'm in the water. But I prefer the swimming pool more than the sea water. The sea was easier to float but it was a little scary because a lot could happen.

This is the last paragraph I will write for it. Then, I will eat dinner. Then, work again. The job just doesn't end. It's stressful. But it's okay. What is important is a job and a meal during the day. I would complain that I would be grateful.
